DRAFT REGULATIONS

1. These Regulations may be called the Indian Boiler (Amendment) Regulations, 1962.

2. In the Indian Boiler Regulations, 1950,

(a) for the existing heading above Regulation 279, the following shall be substituted, namely:

"STANDPIPES AND NOZZLES",

(b) for the existing Regulation 279, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"279. (a) Standpipes and nozzles welded to shell.—Where standpipes or nozzles are secured by welding, adequate compensation for the hole cut shall be provided. Compensation shall be considered adequate when the sectional area 'X' to be compensated measured through the axis of the shell is less than the compensating area 'Y' given in Figure 25-B.

FIG. 25- B COMPENSATION FOR WELDED STANDPIPES.

Sectional area  $X = d_n \times e_s$

• Sectional area  $Y = 2(t_s - e_s) \times b \times \frac{f_n}{f_s} + 2t_n \times b \times \frac{f_n}{f_s} + 2(t_s - e_s) \times c_1 + c_w$

Where

- $d_n$  = internal diameter of the standpipe or nozzle.
 $t_s$  = actual thickness of shell.
 $t_n$  = actual thickness of standpipe or nozzle.
 $e_s$  = equivalent thickness of shell i.e. the thickness of a seamless shell of similar material unpierced by tube holes and is designed for the same conditions of pressure and temperature as the shell in question.
 $e_n$  = equivalent thickness of the standpipe calculated similarly as for  $e_s$  plus any thickness if required to withstand any external load on the standpipe or nozzle.
 $b$  = the least of the values of
 $2.5$  times  $t_s$  +  $2.5$  times  $t_n$ or if the length of the standpipe or nozzle outside or inside the shell is less than this value, 'b' shall be limited to the actual length in each case.
 $C_w$  = The aggregate cross sectional area of the weld fillets.
 $C_i$  =  $t_s + 76$  mm (3 in.)
 $f_s$  = the permissible stress for the material of the shell at the working metal temperature.
 $f_n$  = the permissible stress for the material of the standpipe or nozzle at the working metal temperature.

In cases where 'Y' is less than 'X', a compensating plate shall be fitted to the shell at the standpipe and secured by fillet welds as in Figure 25-B.

The area of cross section of this compensation plate shall be governed by the ratio between the permissible stress at the working metal temperature for the materials of the shell and the compensating plate.

(b) Standpipes and nozzles welded to dished end plates.—Where the standpipes or nozzles are welded to dished end plates, the compensation shall be considered adequate if calculated on the same basis as in (a) above. But the cross sectional area of the end plate to be compensated shall be calculated on the basis of equation 74 and the height of standpipe above the outer surface or within the inner surface of the end plate shall be measured along the radial line passing through the centre of the opening.

(c) Minimum thickness of flanges.—The minimum thickness of the flanges and the body of standpipes shall be in accordance with the table under Regulation 156".

G.S.R. 52.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 7, read with section 3, of the Coal Mines Provident Fund and Bonus Schemes Act, 1948 (48 of 1948), the Central Government hereby makes the following Scheme further to amend the Andhra Pradesh Coal Mines Provident Fund Scheme published with the notification of the Government of India in the late Ministry of Labour No. S.R.O. 657, dated the 12th March, 1956, namely:—

1. This Scheme may be called the Andhra Pradesh Coal Mines Provident Fund (Fourth Amendment) Scheme, 1962.

- (1) in paragraph 2—

- (a) after clause (c), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

“(cc) ‘Chief Inspector of Mines’ has the meaning assigned to it in sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Mines Act, 1902 (33 of 1902)”;

(b) for clause (f), the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

“(f) ‘excluded employee’ means an employee—

- (i) who having been a member of the Fund once, withdrew the full amount of his accumulations in the Fund on permanent retirement after attainment of the age of 50 years or on retirement on account of total incapacity due to bodily or mental infirmity; or
- (ii) who is employed as a labourer of a contractor for the purposes of constructing building, laying bricks or other tiles, supplying timber, doing any timber work or other work of a seasonal nature; or
- (iii) whose basic earnings exceed Rs. 300 per month.

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-clause shall debar an employee.

- (a) whose basic wages exceed three hundred rupees per month subsequent to this qualifying for membership of the Fund from any coal mine to which the said Scheme applies; or
- (b) who is already a member of the Fund from any coal mine to which the Coal Mines Provident Fund Scheme, 1948 or the Rajasthan Coal Mines Provident Fund Scheme applies, on being employed in any coal mine to which the Andhra Pradesh Coal Mines Provident Fund Scheme applies, on a basic pay exceeding three hundred rupees per month, from continuing his membership of the Fund.”

(c) after clause (1), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

“(11) ‘temporary disablement’ means a condition resulting from a personal injury to an employee caused by accident or an occupational disease arising out of and in the course of his employment in a coal mine, which requires medical treatment and renders the employee temporarily incapable of work and which entitles such employee to compensation under the Workmen’s Compensation Act, 1923 (8 of 1923)”.

(2) In paragraph 6

- (a) for the heading “Class of employees required to join the Fund” the heading “Class of employees required to join the Fund in respect of any quarter prior to the 1st January, 1963” shall be substituted;
- (b) after the words and figures “thirtieth of September, 1955”, the words and figures “but before the 1st January, 1963” shall be inserted.

(3) After paragraph 6, the following paragraphs shall be inserted, namely:—

“6A. Class of employees required to join the Fund after 31st December, 1962.— Every employee in a coal mine to which this scheme applies other than an excluded employee, shall be required to join the Fund and become a member immediately after the end of the month following any month after December, 1962, in which he completes attendance in a coal mine for not less than 105 days if an underground employee and 130 days if a surface employee during a period of six months

(2) Any dispute as to whether an employee is an underground or a surface employee shall be referred to the Coal Mines Provident Fund Commissioner whose decision thereon shall be final.

(3) The period of six months in which the qualifying attendance is required to be put in under sub-paragraph (1) shall be reckoned from the beginning of August, 1962 or from the beginning of the month in which an employee is appointed in the coal mine concerned, whichever is later. Where an employee fails to qualify for the membership of the Fund in the first spell of six months subsequent spells shall be worked out by eliminating the first month of the previous spell and adding up thereto another month at the end.

Provided that in the case of an employee other than a monthly paid employee the attendance put in a week which spreads over two calendar months shall be deemed to relate to the calendar month in which the week ends.

“6B. Allowance for leave etc.—(1) For the purpose of paragraph 6A, any kind of leave, other than maternity leave, granted by the employer to an aggregate of 21 days in a calendar year or where an employee has availed himself of earned leave (including accumulations), the actual number of days of such leave plus five days, days of lay off as defined in clause (KKK) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (19 of 1947) days of idleness caused by any lockout which is illegal under section 24 of the said Act and days of absence from work on account of compulsory attendance in a court of law shall count as days of attendance.

(2) If on any working day in any qualifying period of six months an employee is on maternity leave or is unable to attend work owing to temporary disablement, the number of days for which such employee must put in attendance to qualify for the membership of the Fund under paragraph 6A shall be reduced by seventy per cent of such working days if such employee is an underground employee and by eighty-five per cent of such working days if such employee is a surface employee.

Explanation.—In calculating the said percentages of such working days a fraction less than half shall be disregarded and not less than half shall be counted as one.

(3) If in any qualifying period of six months, any day, other than the weekly holiday, is observed as a paid holiday in any coal mine, the number of days for which the employees must put in attendance in such period to qualify for the membership of the Fund under paragraph 6A shall be reduced by the number of such paid holidays falling in such period. In the event of a dispute as to whether a day is a paid holiday or not, the decision of the Chief Inspector of Mines shall be final.

(4) If any question arises whether an employee is required to become or continue as a member of the Fund or as regards the date from which he is required to become a member, the decision thereon of the Coal Mines Provident Fund Commissioner shall be final."

(4) In paragraph 8, for the proviso to sub-paragraph (1) the following proviso shall be substituted, namely:—
